WINNER! Best Lead Actor 2019 Lortel Award – Steven Skybell

Academy Award and Tony Award®-winner Joel Grey again directs Steven Skybell, returning to his role as Tevye, a milkman and mentsch navigating family, faith, and changing traditions in the little Russian shtetl of Anatevka at the turn of the 20th century. As his daughters grow up, fall in love and get married in increasingly untraditional ways, Tevye must adjust to changing times and encroaching antisemitism in the only home he's ever known.

Joyful, heartfelt, and sometimes devastating, this beloved story of a community and its struggle to balance traditions and desires in a changing world “speaks to us all” (Newsday), provides “a richer, deeper interpretation” (The Wall Street Journal) and “offers a kind of authenticity no other American Fiddler ever has” (The New York Times).

Laugh, cry, and feel the love at this powerful and universal testament to the strength and resilience of Jewish community.
