

STRICTLY LIMITED ENGAGEMENT

SLAVE PLAY

BY

JEREMY O.
HARRIS

DIRECTED BY

ROBERT O'HARA

The Old South lives on at the MacGregor Plantation, where nothing is at it seems, and yet everything is as it seems. The story focuses on three interracial couples as they navigate the complexities of life. SLAVE PLAY rips apart history to shed new light on the connection of race, gender, love and sexuality in 21st-century America.

Written by Jeremy O. Harris, "one of the most promising playwrights of his generation" (Vogue), this "dazzling mix of satire and psychodrama" (The New York Times) is directed by two-time NAACP and OBIE Award winner Robert O'Hara.

"ONE OF THE BEST AND MOST PROVOCATIVE NEW WORKS TO SHOW UP ON BROADWAY IN YEARS"

--The New York Times

GOLDEN THEATRE
252 WEST 45th STREET
NEW YORK, NY 10036

Groups 10+

Opened October 6, 2019

Running Time 2 hours, with no intermission

Limited Engagement through January 19, 2020

Recommended for ages 17+

Note: This play contains nudity, sexual content, simulated sexual violence and racially violent language.

GreatWhiteWay.com

(212) 757-9117 | (888) 517-0112