A TENURED PROFESSOR A TALENTED STUDENT A TROUBLING FAVOR

“For its entire 90 minutes you are dying to know what will happen.”

--The New York Times

Tony Award® and Emmy winner Mary-Louis Parker (Prelude to A Kiss; Proof; TV's Weeds; Angels in America) and Will Hochman star in “an astonishing new play” (The New York Times) by award-winning playwright Adam Rapp. It premiered to rave reviews at the Williamstown Theatre Festival.

Parker plays a Yale creative writing professor, and Hochman is her brilliant challenging student. Compelled to know him, there is something she wants from him—something she may not be able to ask. The suspense builds to a dramatic conclusion.

Directed by Tony winner David Cromer (The Band's Visit), THE SOUND INSIDE is a tension-filled play that proves that everyone has a story—the question is how it ends.

“A brilliant production starring Mary-Louise Parker (never better) as the teacher who learns how little it's possible to know.”
