

Trevor

A New Musical

“A truly beautiful, exceptionally timely and consistently artful new musical”

--Chicago Tribune

The time has come for him to break out of his shell...

Trevor Nelson is a 13-year-old force of nature with a vivid imagination. While busy navigating his teenage years in 1981 suburbia, he dreams of a life in show business. When an embarrassing incident at school suddenly places him under the wrong spotlight, he must summon the courage to establish his own path in a challenging world.

Based on an original story by James Lecesne and the 1994 Academy Award-winning short film, which inspired The Trevor Project, a crisis intervention and suicide prevention organization focused on saving LGBTQ lives, this musical adaptation features direction by Marc Bruni (Beautiful: The Carole King Musical), book and lyrics by Dan Collins (Southern Comfort), music by Julianne Wick Davis (Southern Comfort) and choreography by Josh Prince (Beautiful: The Carole King Musical). The musical won a Jeff Award for Best New Work, celebrating theatre in the Chicago area, where it premiered.

A deeply poignant, funny and optimistic story of self-discovery and the power of acceptance, TREVOR is about living your best life with a ton of passion...and a touch of pizzazz.
