--The New York Times

Under the direction of Tony Award®, Academy Award® and Golden Globe winner Sam Mendes (The Ferryman; “1917;” “American Beauty”), a trio of accomplished actors who represent the best of British Theatre – Simon Russell Beale, Adam Godley, Ben Miles – transfer to Broadway after their sold-out runs at London’s National Theatre, West End and New York’s Park Avenue Armory. This New York Times Critic’s Pick is written by Stefano Massini and adapted by Ben Power.

On a cold morning in 1844, a young man from Bavaria stands on a New York dockside dreaming of a new life in the new world. He is joined by his two brothers, and therein begins an American tale of ambition. THE LEHMAN TRILOGY brings to light their modest beginnings and enormous successes until, 163 years later, the firm they establish – Lehman Brothers – dramatically collapses into bankruptcy, generating the largest financial crisis in history.

The New York Post hails the production as “the must-see event of the year. Do anything you can to get a ticket” while The Wall Street Journal declares, “You should crawl across broken glass to see it.”
