

ALL IN

COMEDY ABOUT LOVE BY SIMON RICH
DIRECTED BY ALEX TIMBERS

Writer and comedian John Mulaney (Oh, Hello) stars in a new project from former Saturday Night Live writer Simon Rich—a series of hilarious stories adapted from Rich's The New Yorker short stories about dating, love, relationships, heartbreak, marriage...and that sort of thing.

Directed by Tony Award® winner Alex Timbers (Moulin Rouge! The Musical; Oh, Hello), ALL IN is performed by a rotating starry group of theatre and comedy favorites—some of the funniest people on the planet. For the first five weeks, Mulaney will be joined by actor, comedian, musician and writer Fred Armisen, Tony winner Renée Elise Goldsberry (Hamilton) through December 30, Saturday Night Live's Chloe Fineman January 2-12, and Tony nominee Richard Kind through January 12.

Lin-Manuel Miranda will lead the cast for the final five weeks, January 14 – February 16. Joining him will be Aidy Bryant through February 2, Andrew Rannells through January 26, and Sam Richardson through February 2. Jimmy Fallon will join January 28 – February 2, as will David Cross February 4-9, Tim Meadows February 4-16, and Hank Azaria February 11-16.

Portraying a wide range of characters, sometimes they will play pirates, sometimes they will play dogs, and sometimes they will be forced to talk in British accents. But even though the show's kind of all over the place, it's meant to tell one simple story: the most important part of life is with whom we share it.
